

To whom it may concern,

It's my absolute pleasure to recommend Heather Horton for facilitation of workshops.

I hired Heather to facilitate a workshop for my Air Force Research Laboratory & SBIR Transition Accelerator based on tweezing out team members' personality types to identify each teams' technical lead and operational lead.

I thoroughly enjoyed my time working with Heather, and came to know her as a truly valuable asset to any company looking for a dynamic and engaging presenter or facilitator. Her knowledge of psychology and expertise in personality assessments were a huge advantage to our effort. Heather put immense effort into crafting a unique approach to our exact needs for the session.

I confidently recommend Heather to facilitate and/or present to corporations, business groups, and teams.

Best wishes,
Lauren Tiffan
